The 12th IAWJ Biennial International Conference, Justice For All, hosted by the Tanzania Women Judges Association, was held in Arusha, Tanzania, from May 5-9, 2014. Over 500 judges from 36 countries attended the conference.

Over the course of the conference, participants discussed a wide variety of topics ranging from justice for vulnerable witnesses, the global leadership of women, sextortion, results-based case management, judicial communication, justice in inter-state child abductions, to opportunities for judges beyond the bench.

Justice Joan Charles moderated the session ‘Justice for Vulnerable witnesses: Child Witnesses and the best interest standard’.
Judges in attendance at the 12th Biennial International Association of Women Judges Conference in Arusha, Tanzania, May 5-9, 2014 singing the National Anthem of Tanzania during the Opening Ceremony
Ms. Joan Winship, Executive Director, ex officio, of the International Association of Women Judges, addressing participants during the Opening Ceremony of the 12th Biennial International Association of Women Judges Conference in Arusha, Tanzania, May 5-9 2014
Judges in attendance at the 12th Biennial International Association of Women Judges Conference in Arusha, Tanzania, May 5-9, 2014
Participants in attendance at the 12th Biennial International Association of Women Judges Conference in Arusha, Tanzania, May 5-9, 2014
The Honourable Madame Justice Joan Charles at the International Criminal Tribunal for Rwanda attending the 12th Biennial International Association of Women Judges Conference May 5-9, 2014
From left to right: The Honourable Madame Justice Joan Charles and the Honourable Madame Justice Lisa Ramsumair-Hinds at the International Criminal Tribunal for Rwanda attending the 12th Biennial International Association of Women Judges Conference May 5-9, 2014
The Maasai People perform at the 12th Biennial International Association of Women Judges Conference, Arusha, Tanzania, May 5-9, 2014
The Honourable Madame Justice Joan Charles posing with the Maasai People at the 12th Biennial International Association of Women Judges Conference, Arusha, Tanzania, May 5-9, 2014
The Honourable Madame Justice Lisa Ramsumair-Hinds and The Honourable Madame Justice Joan Charles at base of Mount Kilimanjaro, the highest mountain in Tanzania
The Honourable Madame Justice Joan Charles and the Honourable Madame Justice Lisa Ramsumair-Hinds with a tour guide at the monument built in honour of Hans Meyer, the first European explorer who conquered the summit of Mount Kilimanjaro in 1889, the highest mountain in Tanzania.
The Honourable Madame Justice Joan Charles at base of Mount Kilimanjaro, the highest mountain in Tanzania